

Inlets Collection

Studio
Golden

Welcome to a place where familiar forms transform into a deep sense of belonging.

A peaceful inlet
invites you

to alchemize all the places

you have called home

into a cellular memory of arrival.

Each hand-sculpted form acts as a bridge between the beauty of the material world and the wonder of our inner landscapes.

This is a place where the Puget Sound and the Chesapeake Bay connect.

Where each of our personal contradictions

find a place
to rest.

Inlets

We make beautiful objects for the homes of people who appreciate timeless yet whimsical aesthetics, craftsmanship, and the delight of turning daily tasks into tiny rituals.

Mo Golden and her team of artisans sculpt, glaze, and paint each piece by hand in small batches.

When you bring a Studio Golden piece into your home, you have invested in the highest quality of American craft, designed to last for generations.

Studio^{*} Golden

studiogolden.shop

207 4th Ave E

Olympia, WA 98501

Photography/Styling: Mo Golden, Ross Cowman, Wolfe Erikson, Barham Lashley, Emma Juncosa | Wall Mural: Isa Radojcic | Location: Marmo, a cultural space for art, food, and community in Shelton, Washington.